EXPLOSIVES' TOTAL HIGH

Total exports from the port of New York for the week ended April 1 reached a record breaking amount of $78,745,000, as compared with $24,971,600 in the same week in 1915 and $20,600,000 in the corresponding week in 1914, according to the compilations of the foreign trade department of the National City Bank. The exports to Great Britain were $27,000,000, as against $10,000,000 in the same week of last year, and to Russia $12,000,000, against $6,000,000; to Russia $8,000,000, against $5,000,000, and to Italy $2,500,000, as compared with less than $200,000.

More than $20,000,000 worth of explosives were exported from the port of New York during the week. The figures show that the exports of smokeless powder amounted to approximately $7,000,000, that loaded projectiles valued at $1,000,000 were sent out, that the empty shells exported were worth about $2,000,000, and that the cordite, dynamite, gunpowder more than $1,000,000, and nitrocellulose and other explosives more than $1,000,000.

During 1915 exports of manufactures from the United States exceeded those of any other country in the world. The figure for $78,745,000, as compared with manufactures exported from the United States in that year were $350,000,000 greater than those of Great Britain, formerly the world's greatest exporter of manufactures.

Great Britain, Germany, France, Belgium, Austria, Italy, Spain and Portugal also aside from the United States, were the world's chief exporters of manufactures. In recent years the United States has had third rank, Great Britain and Germany leading. In 1913, the year immediately preceding the war, the exports of manufactures from Great Britain were $23,000,000, those of Germany $11,607,000, those of the United States $17,000,000, France $17,000,000, Belgium approximately $14,500,000, Austria-Hungary $26,000,000, Italy $321,000,000, Netherlands $257,000,000, Japan $241,000,000, Switzerland $198,000,000, Spain $10,000,000, India $19,000,000.

The total value of the exports in form of the total domestic exports of the principal countries of the world is, under normal conditions, as follows: Great Britain, approximately 50 per cent; Germany, 55 per cent; France, 58 per cent; Italy, 60 per cent; Belgium, 62 per cent; Austria-Hungary, 65 per cent; Japan, 67 per cent; United States, 68 per cent. In 1915 the sum of the manufactures formed of our exports was 51 per cent.

Imports during the week ended March 25 amounted to $26,429,475, as compared with $22,917,103 in the same week a year before and $19,583,976 in the corresponding week in 1914.
